Parkinson Prom

Put on your dancing shoes and your Sunday clothes and you'll feel as fine as you look! That is a line from Hello Dolly that sets the stage for our Parkinson Prom on Sunday, April 15.

At the renovated Shaare Emeth, come have your picture taken as you swirl and swing to the sounds of D.J. Terre LeGrande. This dance is sponsored in part by our wonderful South County support group co-facilitator, Jack Strosnider, and you are guaranteed to have an afternoon of fun and fellowship, culminating in the crowning of a Prom King and Queen.

Dancing will start at 2:30 PM and end at 5:00 PM. Light refreshments will be available and this dance is for you. There is no charge! Celebrate April Parkinson Awareness Month by dancing your way to better health. You'll feel as great as you look! Come to socialize and enjoy the open dance floor. Bring a partner or come as a single – graduate students will be volunteering and love to move to the sounds of music.
